RE: Belmont University College of Pharmacy Post-Graduate Fellowship Programs

Dear Dean,

Belmont University College of Pharmacy would like to inform you and your students of our post-graduate drug information fellowship opportunities to begin in June 2023.

We currently have two fellowships in partnership with local healthcare corporations Aegis Sciences Corporation and HealthTrust, as well as government agency sponsorship with the FDA's Division of Drug Information. The programs focus on drug information with additional emphases on academia at Belmont University, toxicology at Aegis, corporate management at HealthTrust, and regulatory agency at the FDA. Upon graduation, the fellows are uniquely positioned to obtain employment in an academic, corporate, government agency or managed care role with the comprehensive drug information skills so desired in all pharmacists today.

We ask for your assistance in identifying qualified PharmD students who might be interested in pursuing advanced training in academic, corporate and/or government agency environments. Informational brochures for interested candidates are available on our fellowships' webpage at <http://www.belmont.edu/pharmacy/academics/fellowships.html>. Please share these with your students and faculty.

Interested students are welcome to directly contact our current fellows, Drs. Samuel Hwang (clinicalpharmaegisfellows@gmail.com) and Samantha Triplett (healthtrustfellows@gmail.com), for specific questions and further information.

Webinars will also be held on October 5th and 12th at 6 pm CST. The Zoom link and meeting ID are as follows: <https://belmontu.zoom.us/j/85664090736>

Meeting ID: 856 6409 0736

Thank you in advance for your assistance. Also, if you send your graduate and fellowship program director contact information we would be pleased to help with your graduate and fellowship recruitment efforts.

Sincerely,

Genevieve Lynn (Ness) Engle, Pharm.D., BCMAS
