Who we serve

Yadkin Valley Home Health serves clients who require home care assistance. These include people who want to live independently at home, patients recuperating from an illness or injury, and the chronically ill.

To qualify for home health care, clients must:

- Need skilled nursing, physical therapy or speech therapy on an intermittent or part-time basis
- Be referred by a physician

An individual care plan for each client

In partnership with physicians, we design a care plan for the individual's short or long-term home care needs. We then coordinate implementation and regularly review the plan to assure that needs continue to be met.

Our nurses evaluate patients by collecting clinical data, such as blood pressure, heart rate, oxygen saturation, temperature and weight, providing comprehensive programs for diagnoses including CHF, COPD and pneumonia. Our staff can also assist in chronic pain management, daily weight checks and a falls program, creating the optimal atmosphere for achieving patient-driven goals. If there is a question or concern, a home health specialist is available 7 days a week to assist with the provided care plan.

Paying for home health care

Yadkin Valley Home Health is certified by Medicare and Medicaid. Both will cover the full cost of care if Medicare/Medicaid guidelines are met. Most private insurance will cover a large percentage of the cost.
